Questions for Gove from people 'on the receiving end'

The Commons Education Committee was 'overwhelmed' with responses when it asked the public to send questions via Twitter for education secretary Michael Gove, who faces questioning by the committee this week.

But committee chairman Graham Stuart rejects suggestions that the committee was effectively asking people to do the MPs' work for them.

He told the BBC 5 Live Breakfast programme: 'It is one more way of trying to break down the barriers between one man at his desk in Whitehall who is in charge of the whole education system and people out there who are on the receiving end.'

'If we can do that in a small way, I hope it will make people feel part of the democratic process and also make us better able to do our job of defending and speaking up for people out there who have to live with government policy.'

He added: 'We have been overwhelmed by how many [questions] there have been... For the last few days, there have just been hundreds and hundreds and ultimately thousands, I think.'

The BBC website says there have been questions on issues ranging from teacher support and careers advice to academies and free schools, a new national curriculum and staff morale.

Other subjects raised include the future of special needs education and vocational training in England.

'What we want to do by using Twitter is to ensure the questions are succinct and we can focus on the issues and areas that people out there – whether they are parents, teachers or people involved in social care – want to raise,' said Stuart.

MPs will ultimately decide which questions to put to the education secretary at Tuesday's hearing.

PLEASE DISPLAY GREENSHEETS IN YOUR STAFF ROOM

Please display Greensheets prominently for your staff. It is a valuable career development resource.

It may be appropriate to display the non-teaching supplement somewhere accessible to parents and visitors, who may be seeking term time work (e.g. your public notice board).

The deadline for advertisement copy is 3pm on Thursday. Advertisements will be placed in the next available issue following receipt unless they are clearly marked with an intended publication date.

Greensheets is delivered by second class post to arrive in schools between Monday and Wednesday.

The website is updated weekly on Monday, and e-mail subscribers and schools that opt to receive a printable version by e-mail receive their mailings on Monday.

Foundation Stage Team Leader

MPS + TLR2 (£2,478)

Full-time • Permanent • Maidenhead, Berkshire
Required for September 2012

The Governors, staff and children of Alwyn Infant School are seeking to appoint an outstanding and caring Foundation Stage Team Leader with high expectations, a deep understanding of effective Early Years practice and the vision, passion and enthusiasm to lead teaching and learning across the Foundation Stage.

This role will require you to be part of the Senior Management Team and to demonstrate management and leadership skills in helping the school along the continued path of improvement. You will be secure in your knowledge of the whole curriculum and confident to share this with others.

Alwyn Infant School is a large, popular and well resourced school. The staff work hard and they, with the governors, are committed to ensuring all children achieve their full potential. The successful applicant will support the Headteacher in driving school improvement, improving pupil outcomes and creating an inclusive, happy and successful learning environment for our children.

This post carries with it a TLR 2 (£2,478). – This is a class-based position which is suitable for teachers who have a record of excellent practice, demonstrate strong leadership qualities and have a sound knowledge of IT, both in the classroom for teaching and learning and in using it to track and analyse progress and attainment data.

The successful candidate will have:

- excellent knowledge and experience of the current EYFS curriculum and developments and a good awareness of the changing climate
- excellent knowledge and understanding of Foundation Stage Profiles and have high expectations of pupil achievement
- an excellent understanding of how to use assessment and data to move the Foundation Stage forward
- the passion to further develop our provision for every child and have a desire to play a key role in the continuing development of the school
- excellent interpersonal skills, and the energy and enthusiasm to play a key role within a new leadership team and the ability and drive to lead, manage, motivate and inspire staff and pupils.

In return we can offer you:

- happy children with excellent attitudes to learning
- the opportunity to work with a friendly and enthusiastic team
- leadership development opportunities
- high expectations.

This is a fantastic opportunity for someone who wants to build upon successful practice and take those first steps towards senior leadership.

A visit to the school and a chat with the Headteacher are strongly encouraged. Opportunities to do this have been arranged for Friday 24 February 2012. Please phone the school to arrange a time.

Application packs are available from school via email, or through the post on receipt of an A4 stamped, addressed envelope, to be returned to school at the address below.

One to One Support Assistant

Part time position required from March 2012
Fixed-Term, Term time only contract
Salary: Local Government pay scale 9-11
according to experience

Furze Platt Infant School is a high achieving, caring, school where children are valued as individuals and are keen, enthusiastic learners.

"A good school where pupils achieve well" and has "successful strategies for promoting pupils' well being which are reflected in the very positive outcomes for pupils' personal development" (Ofsted 2010).

We are looking for:

- A highly motivated, experienced, and creative person to join our Early Years team, supporting the learning and development of an individual child.
- Experience of working with children who have special educational needs would be an advantage, but an ability to empathise and have patience is also essential.

The successful applicant should be flexible, a good communicator who enjoys working as part of a team, as well as being able to use their own initiative.

In return we offer:

- A happy school with a strong ethos.
- Friendly, motivated pupils.
- A supportive and successful school team.
- Good opportunities for personal development.
- Parents and Governors working in partnership to achieve success.

Visits to the school are warmly welcomed.

For an application or a visit, please email or telephone the school.

The school is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children. An enhanced CRB will be sought by the successful applicant.
